DAY 1 - 3

SKIING TECHNIQUE, FREERIDING & AVALANCHE PREVENTION

We meet on Monday morning at 9:15 am at the Hotel Strela Davos. From there we set out for one of the Davos Klosters ski areas. In January we enjoy the tranquility here and have long powdery slopes all to ourselves. We will use these three days to work on your technique in powder snow. We teach you the basics of avalanche awareness, prevention being the most important lesson. But also learning the techniques in the rescue after an avalanche with an avalanche transceiver, probe and shovel. In addition to all the educational content we also have a lot of time available for many beautiful powder runs! Freeriding in Davos Klosters means, we use the lifts and combine this with short ascents with skins to find the most beautiful slopes and the best snow.

After the last descend we will return to the hotel. Hotel Strela has newly renovated rooms and a spa area. So there's nothing in the way of a great freeride camp in Davos ...
